Campervan Site Harlesiel

The world natural heritage

Whoever wants to visit the North Sea, will be enjoying the unique landscapes by the world natural heritage, the Wadden Sea.

The low and high tides alternate twice a day, bringing the mudflat to stay on the seabed as water retreats because of the low tide. An extraordinary habitat for plants and animals is formed due to this consistent alternation of the tidal current. Besides, there is a big number of other sea animals like shells, worms and a lot of other small species. This diversity of different creatures in the Wadden Sea is unique.
